Vitus Healthcare

Introduction

Situation: Vitus Healthcare, an established health care organization, as with many other organizations in a dynamic industry suffers the trends in health care business such as changes in patient needs, new regulations, and limited funding.

Financial Pressures

Inflationary pressures coupled with decline in claims reimbursement pose a major challenge to the health of Vitus Healthcare. Maintaining these demands in ways that do not have an adverse impact on the quality of care, is a very real issue.

Workforce Management

Maintaining employee tenure for healthcare specialists when the field suffers from poor staffing levels is a stark difficulty. The needs of the staff must be met in the same way that workload needs to be catered for so as to maintain functionality.

Conclusion

The case of Vitus Healthcare clearly shows that strategic planning together with the ability to change strategy are crucial issues when it comes to the healthcare industry. Through solutions designed at addressing the key areas of concern as far as healthcare finance, workforce and regulations are concerned, Vitus Healthcare can be better placed and more viable for the long haul.
