

TheCaseSolutions.com

Number 1 in case studies solutions

US DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION LAUNCHING COLLEGE SCORECARD A DIGITAL SERVICE

Introduction

The recent move by the US Department of Education of offering the College Scorecard also goes a long way in upgrading the level of transparency in higher learning institutions. This digital service was developed with an aim of assisting students and their families to make better choices in regard to where they pursue their further studies.

College Scorecard exist

The purpose as to why the college Scorecard was launched is mainly to provide simple tools in a given website that gives specific information about college and institutions. It is to make people understand where and how much is being invested in education and allows potential students estimate the worth of a certain educational establishment.

Challenges and Opportunities

The College Scorecard is beneficial however the difficulties of updating the information and its accurate representation of the College's performance is a concern. There could also be pressure by efficiency considering that institutions could be forced by the issue of transparency to up their game. However, this also poses a chance to the educational institutions to consider their scores and bond well to potential students.

Conclusion

The US Department of Education's College Scorecard is one of the most prominent and valuable online resources that improve the level of openness in the higher education system. It provides the student as well as the families with the required knowledge to make choices to pave way for education to be equal to careers and financially stable revenue.

RESOURCE

This is just a sample partial case solution. Please place the order on the website to order your own originally done case solution.

Resource: Visit thecasesolutions.com for detailed analysis and more case studies.